- Support departmental programs by collecting and analyzing data, drafting reports, and contributing to project planning.
- Participate in fieldwork, farm visits, or rural community engagements to gain practical insights into agricultural practices and community needs.
- Collaborate with experienced professionals to learn about different aspects of the agricultural sector, land reform strategies, and rural development programs.
- Contribute innovative ideas and perspectives to ongoing projects, fostering creativity and critical thinking.

Qualifications

- Currently enrolled in a relevant degree program such as Agriculture, Environmental Science, Rural Development, Economics, or related fields.
- Strong interest in agricultural practices, land reform, rural development, and sustainable farming.
- Excellent communication skills and ability to work in a team-oriented environment.
- Proficiency in basic computer applications (Microsoft Office suite, internet research).
- Adaptability and willingness to learn new skills and techniques.
- Commitment to the values and goals of the Department of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development.

Job Benefits

- Valuable hands-on experience in various aspects of agriculture, land reform, and rural development.
- Mentorship and guidance from experienced professionals in the field.
- Networking opportunities within the department and the broader agricultural community.
- Exposure to diverse projects and initiatives contributing to personal and professional growth.
- Possibility of continued engagement or future employment opportunities based on performance and departmental needs.
